

Responsible Sourcing Solutions

UL provides the intelligence and tools that businesses need to develop and implement sustainable business practices within their supply chains.

Monitoring

Annually, UL conducts nearly 20,000 audits of factories, farms, processing plants and warehouses, and has a footprint in more than 140 countries. We are accredited monitors for WRAP, ICTI and SA8000, and are active in a broad range of monitoring initiatives like BSCI, EICC, SEDEX, ICS and FFC. UL completed the GSCP Equivalence Process for Auditing Competence.

Monitoring services include:

- Social responsibility workplace assessments
- Due diligence assessments
- Conformity Certification Audits for the Responsible Jewellery Council (RJC)
- Conflict mineral and raw material traceability assessments
- Brand protection assessments, chain of custody audits and anti-counterfeit audits
- Customs-Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (C-TPAT) audits
- Environmental assessments

Training and Education

UL offers a wide array of classroom and E-learning opportunities for brands, retailers, suppliers and factories in over 15 languages.

Program Development and Management

Drawing from extensive industry knowledge and best practices, UL delivers innovative solutions through customized services that establish, assess, track and measure supply chain sustainability programs.

Research and Advisory Services

UL advances sustainable business practices within supply chains through six areas of expertise:

- Social Responsibility and Accountability
- Supply Chain Risk Identification and Management
- Environmental Responsibility
- Capacity Building and Continuous Improvement
- Supply Chain Security and Brand Protection
- Extractives and Raw Materials Sourcing

A global network of in-house researchers maintains a comprehensive library of labor and environmental laws, CSR risk indices, global minimum wage lists and best practices manuals.

Our extensive research capability provides auditors immediate access to specific laws during the audit process, informs clients with key insights and intelligence to make critical business sourcing decisions, and positions UL as a thought-leader in supply chain responsibility.
