

UL's Responsible Sourcing e-Learning Platform

UL's Responsible Sourcing e-Learning Platform offers self-paced training that is engaging, consistent and measurable. Brands, retailers and their global supply chain can access and manage training 24/7 from virtually anywhere. All available courses are developed by UL's subject matter experts and are continuously updated to address compliance requirements.

Brands and retailers can customize specific training programs for their teams and global supply chain, with the ability to monitor progress.

Training categories include COVID-19 awareness, various corporate social responsibility (CSR) topics, as well as environmental and occupational health and safety risk management. Trainings are continually developed based upon industry trends and emerging risks within global supply chains.

Key benefits of using UL's Responsible Sourcing e-Learning Platform

UL's Responsible Sourcing e-Learning platform allows brands, retailers and their supply chain to take cost-effective training at their own pace and provides educational courses built by technical experts.

- Training options that provide a practical approach to continual improvement
- Promotes proactive education for both management and factory level employees
- Business accounts that enable companies to assign trainings and monitor progress through reporting

Why should you choose UL's Responsible Sourcing e-Learning platform?

The platform offers:

- More than 1,500 on-demand trainings, available on any device, in multiple languages
- The ability for account owners, whether they are individual learners or business account managers, to pull reports and monitor the status of scheduled and completed training
- Flexible billing options, including discounted training for bulk learning
- Dedicated technical support

For more information on UL's Responsible Sourcing Solutions, visit CRS.UL.com or contact us at rsinfo@ul.com.

Empowering Trust[®]

UL and the UL logo are trademarks of UL LLC © 2020.

1120